THINGS THEATRICAL.

—see H. Broadhurst's "gleeful plenty-tude," entitled "Why Smith Left Home," comes to the Columbia next Monday evening for an engagement of one week. The management has supplied the production with a cast that, it is said, will bear comparison with any ever seen here in a similar work. This organization includes such clever players as Maclyn Arbuckle, Fred W. Peters, M. B. Snyder, Hans F. Roberts, Dan Mason, Mrs. E. A. Eberle, Brandon Douglas, Gertrude Roosevelt, Rose Snyder, Blanche Carlyle, Anna Bridger, and Annie Yeamans, the character actress. Thus, amusement-lovers will watch practically the same company that helped make the piece a success in London and also in New York, where it ran for four months at the Madison Square Theatre.

It was Willard Holcomb, one-while a prominent local critic, who told Frank Perley, upon seeing Alice Nielsen with "The Fortune Teller," that in the little star he had "a little bit of the Grand." The prophecy has been realized fully, even Miss Crabtree never having won a greater following than has Miss Nielsen. In "The Singing Girl," with which she appears next week at the National, the young woman has achieved what seems to be the triumph of her brief but success-crowded career. The piece just has been given at a hundred nights at the New York Casino, from whence it went to Philadelphia and Baltimore. Both cities liked the player and the play. Seats for a local engagement go on sale this morning.

Marie Walworth, the headliner announced for the new bill at the Grand, is known as one of the most talented actresses in this country, while her reputation for productions is only second to that of Fanny Davenport. A Boston critic called "The American Henry Irving," Miss Walworth will appear here in Khaki costume, and will recite Kipling's "The Absent-Minded Beggar," to the music of Sir Arthur Sullivan. She will be preceded and followed at the Chase house by such vaudevilleans as the Five Coronals, George W. Day, Ward and Curran, Hall and Stanley, and Frank and not to speak of the ever-popular Biograph. The usual matinee will be given, and seats for the week now are on sale.

Robbie's "Knickerbocker" Burlesquers, an organization which always has borne an excellent reputation among local lovers of variety, will be in the next week at Kean's, where seats for the engagement go on sale this morning. The organization is said to include nearly forty people, among whom are Bert and Sophie Leslie, J. Grant, the Armstrong brothers, the La Moynes, Rosalie, the three Wright sisters, and Casey Grant. A new and supposedly humorous burlesque, entitled "The Absconder, or Where He Was Shot," terminates the performance given. As usual, there will be daily matinees.

WORRIED OVER SMALLPOX.

The Postoffice Officials Give Serious Thought to Oklahoma.

Postoffice officials are watching the spread of smallpox in Oklahoma with serious interest. It has been found necessary to close the office at Remus because the postmaster, his wife, and two of his children are afflicted. Avoca is threatened with the plague and the railway mail clerks are instructed to suspend the mail service thither at their own discretion. The last town to fall under suspicion is Weatherford, in providing for the quarantine of a lame mule, paid a fine of $2.
Bryson W. Chase, charged with destroying a sign owned by David T. Mann, was fined $5.
Henry Grimes, convicted of assaulting William H. Parker, was sent to jail for sixty days.

A Watch Stolen.

Complaint was made at Police Headquarters last night by Helen Caster, of 1223 Thirtieth Street, Georgetown, that a thief had entered her home and stolen a silver watch, valued at $5.

A Preacher Charged With Theft.

Rev. George W. Cole, colored, was arraigned in the Police Court today charged with the theft of $19.50. The accused during the week serves meals to the employees of the Government Printing Office. The complainant, Simon P. Mass, alleges that he gave a $20 bill in mistake for a $1 bill in payment for food and that he received 20 cents in change. He refused to accept the balance of his money it was refused. A jury trial was demanded and bond fixed in the sum of $1,000.

The People Avert That Hourly's Beers are the Purest and Best.

The Best Cough Medicine for Children.

In the winter of 1898, F. I. Russell's little boy contracted a severe cough and cold, and was treated by several physicians, who failed to do him any good. Mr. R. said to his wife, "I will try Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It will cure him." He bought a 25-cent bottle and then a 50-cent bottle, which effectually cured him. He says, "I am judge and jury, and the verdict is, 'Use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and live.' This Remedy is for sale by Henry Evans, wholesale and retail, and all druggists.
